

VENTURA COUNTY.

Los Angeles Times (1886-Current File); Feb 9, 1896; ProQuest Historical Newspapers Los Angeles Times (1881 - 1982)
pg. 33

VENTURA COUNTY.

A Soldiers' Monument to Be Erected. Dangerous Shoal.

VENTURA, Feb. 8.—The special committees of the G.A.R., W.R.C., and Sons of Veterans' of Ventura county today awarded a contract for a soldiers' monument to be erected in the cemetery to the Monumental Bronze Company of Bridgeport, Ct. The monument will be twenty-five feet high surmounted by the figure of a volunteer soldier.

A ledge of rocks and a dangerous shoal bank was recently discovered by Capt. T. H. Merry of Hueneme. The rocks, which lie south of the Hueneme lighthouse, will be located and charted by the United States steamer Albatross, which has been ordered to Hueneme to make the survey.